

22 SENIORS ACCEPTED TO WHO'S WHO; FRESHMEN ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

Betty Jeane Cox

The Freshman Class is very happy to introduce their president. She is "Bee Jay" Cox, a resident of Willard Dorm.

"Bee Jay" was very active in her high school in Norfolk, Va. Back at Granby High School, she was a senator of Senior Class, Vice president of Junior Class, in the House of Representatives for three years, a delegate to District SCA convention and on the Herald Tribune Forum.

Her voice has had good training for future class meetings, as she was a cheerleader for three years and one year was squad leader. Among the many honors she received was the Key Service Award for Outstanding Service.

President Cox includes, as an outside activity, STUDYING. She is a Physical Therapy major and enjoys dancing. Good Luck "Bee Jay," we know you will do a good job.

Future Events

Professor Collier Abbott of Durham University in England, the distinguished scholar who discovered the manuscript of Boswell's "Life of Johnson," will lecture here Wednesday, November 28, at 2:00 p.m. in duPont Theatre on the topic, "Boswell and Boswell Papers." He was a Visiting Professor at the University of Virginia in 1952 and comes to the campus under the sponsorship of the Richmond Area University Center.

Christmas Formal On December 8th

The Christmas Formal Ball, the first of two dances scheduled by the Formal Dance Committee, will be on December 8th in the Gothic Room from 9 to 12 p.m. Furnishing music for the dance and an afternoon concert will be Lester Lamin and his orchestra. A concert of popular tunes will be given in the Gothic Room from 4 to 5. A live combo from the orchestra will furnish Dixieland music at the breakfast which follows the Ball.

The price of the tickets, which will go on sale immediately after Thanksgiving, is six dollars and will include the concert, dance, and breakfast. For those students who wish to attend the concert only, there will be a fifty cents charge.

Phi Sigma Iota Taps

Phi Sigma Iota, national Romance language honor society, announces that on Wednesday, October 24, the following members were tapped into its organization: Judy Martin, June Kyzer, Patricia Alvis, and Edith Morse.

In order to be eligible for this honor society, a student must be either a junior or a senior who is taking a third-year course in a Romance language and who has an overall B average with a B+ average in a Romance language. On Tuesday, November 13, Dr. Mary Ellen Stephenson and Miss Rosemary Herman entertained faculty members, initiates and members of Phi Sigma Iota, and invited guests with a tea at their home.

The purpose of the tea was to acquaint interested students with Phi Sigma Iota, its function and requirements for entrance, and to stimulate interest in the society.

Epaulet Literary Contest Starts

There is an old saying that every man has a book within him, if it could only be written. We of the "Epaulet" staff are not asking for your books, but rather for glimpses of them through your poems, short stories, and essays.

Perhaps some of you will hesitate to submit your work, but why not give it a chance? We need material from which to choose. We want all the original writing that you can offer. After all, the "Epaulet" is your magazine, and we are hoping that this year it can be published three times, full of more material than it has ever had before. Please contribute!

RULES FOR THE CONTEST

1. Every registered student of MWC is eligible.
2. All material submitted must be original and previously unpublished.
3. All material submitted must be typewritten.
4. Entries may consist of poems, short stories, narratives, and book reviews. No lengthy manuscripts or term papers will be accepted.
5. Each typewritten page must have your name, room number, dormitory, and college P.O. box on the back.
6. Entry deadlines are as follows:

For the Fall Issue:
Monday, November 19th, 1956

For the Winter Issue:
Monday, February 11th, 1956

For the Spring Issue:
Monday, April 15th, 1956

Only recognition awards will be made.

The judges will be Dr. Croushore and Mr. Kelly.

Entries may be submitted to the following people: Frances Hogue, Madison 302; Colette Courtot, Framar 3; Kathie Villard, Mason 510; and Joan Essick, Virginia 125.

Chancellor Simpson Commissioned The Kentucky Colonel

Declared on Kentucky soil for the night of November 6, the home of Miss Margaret Hargrove, dean of students, was the setting for the commissioning of Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson in the Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels.

The 18 students enrolled here from the Blue Grass State and Miss Hargrove, a native of Louisville, saw to it that a true colonel's black string tie and wide-brimmed felt hat were in the picture when the commission was presented by Miss Helen Jane Williamson and Miss Mary K. Townsend of Louisville, daughters of Kentucky Colonels. A corsage of yellow chrysanthemums given to Mrs. Simpson symbolized goldenrod, Kentucky's State flower, and an added touch for the occasion was the sprig of mint served in each glass of cider.

Except from the book called "Howdy Colonel" (used when commission was presented to Dr. Simpson)

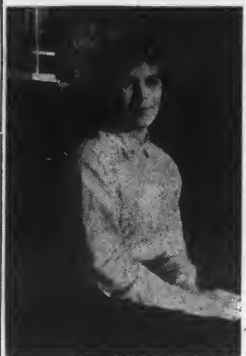

"The question so often is asked that the time seems propitious for revealing something of the ingredients which go to make up the body of men and women who add dignity, distinction, a lively lustre

Rose Bennett

Rose Bennett is a very interesting person. One of the first things a person realizes is that she is Vice President of the Freshman Class. This Goat is occupying her time at Mary Washington by being on the Bulletin Staff and also the Battlefield Staff. Being a member of the "Y" and being active in the Baptist Student Union make her well known. As for sports, she likes horseback riding and the Outing Club, of which she is a member, offers a very good opportunity for the out-of-doors activities.

Back at Thomas Jefferson High in Richmond, Va., Rose worked on the annual, newspaper, and literary magazine. Behind the scenes is the place that you would have found Rose at several dramatic productions. This busy girl was tapped into the National Honor Society in high school and last May was spotlighted in the school magazine in This is Your Life.

Rose thinks she would like to be an English major. Most of her room is decorated in original cartoons.

Convo. Honors Woodrow Wilson

Convocation at MWC on November 14 was held to observe the State-wide Woodrow Wilson Centennial Program. Dr. Samuel Flagg Bemis spoke on the subject, "Woodrow Wilson and Latin American." Author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning biography of John Quincy Adams, Dr. Bemis was formerly a member of the George Washington University faculty and more recently professor of diplomatic history at Yale University.

to the Blue Grass State. The recipe is, no secret. To turn out a first rate Kentucky Colonel, take equal parts of friendship, of good fellowship, of good will and good fun; add capacity for service, accomplishment in some worthy line of endeavor, warm-hearted hospitality; season with the spirit of get-together, and the love of laughter. The result is a potential Kentucky Colonel, lacking only the signature of the Governor of the State to burst into full bloom."

BARNARD FORUM

Among the 46 colleges sponsoring the ninth annual Barnard Forum next February are five Virginia institutions: Hollins, Mary Baldwin, Mary Washington, Randolph-Macon Woman's, and Sweet Briar.

The purpose of the Forum is to bring to open discussion critical issues of the day, as a public service to the community and as a contribution to general education. The program at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel this year will be devoted to a discussion of Asia and the West. Seven colleges instigated the first Forum in 1949.

Professional Qualification Test

The Professional Qualification Test of the National Security Agency, administered by Educational Testing Service, will be given on this campus on December 1.

The test is one of ability to read, to understand to to reason logically with a variety of verbal and quantitative materials. Candidates who qualify on the test will be considered for professional positions with the National Security Agency, which operates as a part of the intelligence system of the Federal Government. All students who expect to receive degrees this year and who are interested in employment are urged to take the examination. There is no fee for the test nor does it obligate the student in any way.

The National Security Agency offers unusual and challenging careers to graduates at all levels from the bachelor's degree to the doctorate. Because NSA has many kinds of positions open, it can utilize college majors in nearly all fields. Appropriate recognition of experience factors as well as educational background is made in determining initial position placement and starting salary.

Interested students can obtain application forms and Bulletins of Information, which provide additional information about the program together with the details of registration and administration, from the placement office or from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. A completed application must reach the ETS office by November 24. Mrs. Mary A. K. Kelly will administer the exam at M.W.C. Information available in Placement Bureau.

A.A.U.W. Sponsors Annual Book Sale

The annual A.A.U.W. Book Sale is being held in Ann Carter Lee Hall, Lounge A until Wednesday, November 21, and from Monday, November 26, to Saturday, December 1. Miss Carmen Rivera, chairman of the project, announces that a large variety of books will be on sale and students may order any books which they want but are not on display. This sale will not include books, only, but also records for children.

Funds from the sale will go toward a scholarship which will be awarded to a local James Monroe High School senior for use at MWC. This year for the first time, the aim of the A.A.U.W. book sale is not only to cover the scholarship but at the same time to start creating a fund to make a grant to a MWC graduate to study abroad.

Students are urged to support this worthwhile project.

Katherine Gibbs Scholarships

Two national scholarships for college senior girls are offered for 1957-1958 by the Katherine Gibbs School. These awards were established in 1935 as a memorial to Mrs. Katharine M. Gibbs, founder and first president of the School. Each scholarship consists of full tuition ($685) for the secretarial training course, plus an additional cash award of $500, totaling $1,185. The winners may select any one of the four Gibbs schools for their training—Boston, New York, Montclair, or Providence.

Winners are chosen by the Scholarship Committee on the basis of college academic record, personal and character qualifications, financial need, and potentialities for success in business.

Each college or university may recommend two candidates, and each candidate must have this official endorsement. Students who may be interested in competing for one of these Katharine Gibbs awards may obtain full information from the college placement bureau.

Senior Benefit

The Senior Benefit, ARTISTRY IN RHYTHM, will be given Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, in Monroe Auditorium at 8:15. The revue is written by Elaine Richter and principals taking part are Vicki Majure and Evelyn Nitti.

Careers For Women

Careers for Women will be discussed at the convocation program on November 28, 1956. Dr. R. W. Whidden will introduce Miss Bernadine Schunck, Placement and Vocational Guidance Director for Berkeley School in New York City, who will speak on "The New Look in Women's Careers"; Mr. Ben E. Ames, Personnel Director for Thalheimer's in Richmond, who will discuss "Retailing Careers for Women"; and Mr. Clarence Kent, Supervisor of Guidance Education for the State Department of Education, Richmond, who will discuss the topic "Women in the Educational Field". There will be a question and answer session in the Hall of Mirrors immediately following convocation - with refreshments!

Who Will Be Maid of Cotton

Bermuda is a tiny spot on the world globe. But this fashionable resort island is of a great deal of interest to Charlotte Norman of Abbeville, La., and Elizabeth Ann Clark of Yazoo City, Miss. They will be going there with the Maid of Cotton in 1957.

The National Cotton Council announces that Miss Norman and Miss Clark will travel with the 1957 Maid of Cotton as tour manager and secretary, respectively. This will be the first time that the Maid of Cotton has visited Bermuda on her seven-months international tour in behalf of the cotton industry.

Prior to her appointment as tour manager, Miss Norman worked as sales promotion assistant in the New York office of the Council. She handled arrangements for the Maid of Cotton tour and had charge of children's wear and home furnishings campaigns. For three years, she was Youth Coordinator in the children's wear department of the D. H. Holmes Department Store in New Orleans. She is a graduate of Louisiana State University.

The new tour secretary is a graduate of Mississippi State College for Women. Miss Clark previously was employed by the American Oil Pipe Line Company in Houston, Texas, for a year and a half. Before going to Texas, she worked for the Southland Oil Company in her hometown of Yazoo City.

In 1957, Miss Norman and Miss Clark will travel with the Maid of Cotton to more than 30 major cities in the United States and Canada. In the middle of their coast-to-coast travels, the trio will fly to Bermuda aboard British Overseas Airways Corporation's airliner, the Viscount. Miss Norman will accompany the Maid on a visit to leading European fashion centers, the exciting finale of her fabulous journey.

Applications for the 1957 Maid of Cotton contest are now being received in the Council's Memphis office. To be eligible, a girl must have been born in one of the 18 cotton-producing states. She must be between the ages of 19 and 25, at least five feet, five inches tall, and must never have been married.

The Maid of Cotton contest is sponsored each year by the National Cotton Council, the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association, and the Cotton Exchanges of Memphis, New York, and New Orleans. Application forms may be obtained from the Council, P. O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tenn.

The world's first successful convertible plane unofficially exceeded the speed record for helicopters when it reached 200 miles an hour.

Betty Jameson

Betty's name should be changed to "BUSY" Jameson. Being Freshman Representative to Student Government, she has to literally squeeze in the rest of her many activities. Betty lives in Virginia Hall and she was Democratic precinct chairman for this dormitory. She is the captain of the Virginia II basketball team. Terrapin Club and Battlefield give Betty outlets to her many talents.

Sports are tops with this blonde. She was in the Athletic Association at Holton Arms School in Washington, D.C. At M.W.C. she plays hockey. At her high school she was the business manager for the yearbook.

The Canterbury Club and the Dorm Vespers committee are very important to Betty. Knitting and bridge take up her "spare time". The Freshman are very proud of the choice that they made for Student Government Representative.

Travers Moncure

Politics and people interest Travers very much. Her roommates claim that she is a very bad housewife as shown by her closet but everyone claims that her notes will be in better shape.

Travers is very sport-minded. She enjoys bowling, badminton, basketball and volleyball. The Girl's Athletic Association demanded a good deal of time in high school in Albion, Long Island, New York, where she won the National Theban Award and was vice president of High "Y".

This vivacious girl was president of her sorority and a member of the Senior Council. She was also on the Executive Board of the Student Council.

The Freshman secretary lives in Willard.

Physical Therapy

by Gail Morgan

The second meeting of the Physical Therapy Club was held Thursday, November 8th. The purpose of this meeting was to make definite preparations for the annual Christmas Party held for the crippled and mentally retarded children of the Fredericksburg area. To finance this party, the Club is making Christmas wreaths and selling them to the faculty of Mary Washington and to the civic organizations of Fredericksburg. Greens for the wreaths are being obtained from the farm of Miss Anna Scott Hoye, the Club sponsor.

A second topic of discussion was a field trip to Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center in Fishersville, Virginia. This center is the largest of its kind under one roof in the World. The trip is planned for November 29, 1956.

The senior Physical Therapists have also been extended the privilege of viewing some operations at Mary Washington Hospital pertaining to their line of work. This is to further their knowledge and preparation for hospital training. The Club agenda is quite full for the year and members are looking forward to an interesting and deeply gratifying inside look at Physical Therapy.

Canterbury Club

M. Massey

"One Catholic and Apostolic Church" was the topic of discussion at a conference held at Roslyn in Richmond on October 27-28 attended by eight Canterbury Club members and their student worker, Miss Carole Macklin.

The Reverend Holt H. Graham of Virginia Theological Seminary led the discussions. Canterbury Clubs from colleges and universities in Virginia were represented.

Recent activities of the club have been informal talks and discussions on "Love and Marriage." Visiting speakers include Father Barker of Grace Church, Alexandria who spoke on "Love and Marriage"; the Rev. James P. Lincoln, Richmond, who spoke on "The Rocks and Shoals of Marriage"; and Dr. John A. Gearfoss Jr., gynecologist from Alexandria, who spoke on "The Physical Aspects of Marriage." Alumnae Daughters Club

M. Massey

Forty-eight girls on campus are eligible for membership in the Alumnae Daughters Club this year. These are the girls whose mothers have been students at Mary Washington College.

Dr. Pauline G. King, assistant professor of art and an alumnae of MWC, is the new sponsor of the club.

The Alumnae Daughters had a bake sale in Chandler Hall on Tuesday, November 13th. This is one of the many activities of the club for this year.

Officers of Alumnae Daughters this year are: Mary Montague Hudson, president; Marjorie Connock, vice president; Martha Moore, treasurer; Mary Massey, secretary; and Martha Huffman, refreshment chairman.

Stafford, and Mrs. Garreth Miller from Fredericksburg, discussed "Choosing Your Mate."

Psychology Club News

Dr. and Mrs. John T. Fauls were special guests at the Psychology Club meeting on November 8. Mrs. Fauls, who is a clinical psychologist working at the clinic here in Fredericksburg, talked to the group about mental deficiency, relating some of her experiences as a worker in this field.

Beth Kindley, president, announced that the meeting date of the Psychology Club would be the second Thursday of each month at eight o'clock. The chairman of the program committee, Meredith Puller, told the group that the monthly programs were to be centered around the different phases of psychology. Phyllis Bailey, Sally Shepherd and Dale Harris were appointed to work with the program chairman, and Leigh Goodrich was elected reporter for the club.

Danish Silver Exhibition

"Fifty Years of Danish Silver," an exhibition featuring the work of Denmark's foremost designers and silversmiths, opened on Friday evening, November 2, in the Loan Galleries of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond.

The exhibition now on a good will tour of the United States, is under the sponsorship of His Excellency Henrik Kauffman, Danish Ambassador to the United States, who formally opened the exhibition with an address in the Museum Theatre.

Consisting of several hundred silver objects, ranging from flatware to large decorative table pieces and gem-encrusted jewelry, the exhibition is displayed in a dramatic modern installation expressly designed for the display by Finn Juhl, Denmark's leading contemporary architect.

The core of the exhibition is the work of Georg Jensen and Johan Rohde, who in 1905 established the famed Jensen atelier in Copenhagen, which has become synonymous with the best contemporary traditions of design and workmanship in silver.

"Fifty Years of Danish Silver" will continue on exhibition at the Virginia Museum in Richmond through Sunday, November 25, at regular museum hours.

Admittance to the museum and to all its exhibitions is free on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

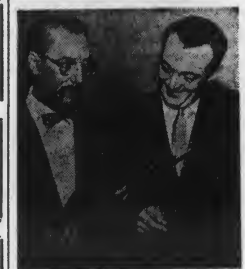

Kitten James

Horses and being Treasurer of the freshman class are among the main interests of Kitten James. Kitten spent a great deal of her time riding her own horse back in Michigan. In high school she excelled in writing. She was the winner of the Quill and Scroll Creative Writing Award. Kitten was on the yearbook staff where she held the position of editor of the Social section, and she was Feature Editor of the newspaper. She was a Student Government Representative and was a delegate in Michigan for the Student Government Convention.

Being Treasurer of the Junior Dance, Social chairman of Pep Club, on The Steering Committee of Mock United Nations, and Assembly Club member and a member of the Cicerone Club kept Kitten busy in high school.

Friends of Kitten's say that she can add and that is proof enough for the Freshman that she will make a good treasurer. Kitten is on house council and is another dweller in Willard.

Aunt Agatha Answers

Dear Aunt Agatha,

Mother and I are always quarreling these days, and it's all because of Farnsworth. He is a student from a nearby university, and he boards with Mother. She is always finding fault with him and makes no effort to understand his individual greatness. He decides material things like money and clothes. Oh, he wears them, I mean, but he doesn't spend valuable time worrying about what the condition of his sartorial splendor is. If gravy drips on his shirt or tie, or if his pants are baggy, what of it? His attitude is that, well, he has no time to have an attitude about playtime things like that, being somewhat like Socrates. He is a true intellectual.

Mother, on the other hand, does not understand him. She picks on him because he has a growing boy's appetite, and he always likes to tell the other boarders the truth at the dinner table, like what he thinks of their clothes, or intelligence - things like that. She insists that he is trying to upset their stomachs and kill their appetites so there will be more food left for him, and furthermore, he will never amount to anything.

That shows you how much

Mother knows. Farnsworth has told me secretly that he is planning to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a kayak, and will be famous overnight. He's just the type to do it, too. Mother is getting real impossible, though, and has been coming up behind him just as he is about to sit down at the table, and pulling his chair out, so that he always keeps falling down. She thinks he'll move out, but she doesn't know how good-natured he is.

The other day, though, was just about the last straw. Mother started SERVING INDIVIDUAL PORTIONS OF FOOD, and she says there will be no more self-service; she has also put a padlock on the refrigerator. She is trying to starve Farnsworth to death, and I can't stand it anymore. What shall I do, Aunt Aggie?

Frantically,
Brunhilde

Dear Brunhilde,
I think that you should start packing Farnsworth's things immediately. The sooner Farnsworth takes off in his kayak, the better. Or, if you can't bear to part with him, take the contents of your mother's refrigerator with you and join him. I'm sure there'll be room for two! At any rate, Bon Voyage!

Truly, truly yours,
Aunt Agatha

Dear Aunt Agatha,
"Gurgle, gurgle - blub, blub,"

or, to be more specific, "I have a problem."

As you may have guessed, I am a member of the fish family - a goldfish to be exact. But, may I add, there's nothing fishy about my problem; it's "for real."

I came into existence about four months ago in a peaceful aquarium at Grant's store. It was a lovely place! My life was utter bliss; mama and papa looked after me during the night, and I played with my fish fellows and femmes during the day.

I remained in this happy state of "eat, swim, and be merry" until last Tuesday at exactly 3:00. (I remember looking at the clock on the wall to see how close it was to feeding time.) Well, at this precise moment there wandered into Grant's a Mary Washington freshman. (I could tell by her beanie. "Wandered" is the wrong word for this girl's actions though. Rather, she beelined straight for my little paradise, looked over the joint, and then pointed to Alice (my "fish fatale") and me, who were huddled desperately in one corner. Oh, how can life be so cruel!

We were then transplanted to a completely different atmosphere. It was what humans call a bowl. I might add that it was quite small - almost unbearably so. Alice and I measured and found it only six wiggles wide and eight wags long. Can you imagine?

That was bad enough, but then the feeding began. Apparently this young lady was not at all well-acquainted with the ways of fish. The first day we were extremely well supplied - in fact, so well supplied that I was rather constipated, and I noticed that Alice was a little "green around the gills." The next day we nearly starved. Imagine one wafer between the two of us!

So went our days in the bowl. We were just getting a little used to such irregularities when it happened! Five days had gone by and our water still hadn't been changed. This girl was certainly a "monster from the black lagoon." Why, it was nearly impossible for us to catch our breath. I tried to offer Alice encouragement but to no avail. Silently she uttered her last soft gurgling of a farewell and rose to float on top of the water in what we term "fish purgatory." This left me quite down in the dumps, and I shed many a tear of remorse.

Alice death did bring about a new supply of H2O though. The girl finally wised up to the facts of "fish life." Her death also brought about my problem. I have been left without a mate. Now, Auntie, how can I get this point across to my MWC tormentor? Please help me at once!

Desperately yours,

Freddie

Please note: The Bullet appreciates all mail from its subscribers, however it regrets that Aunt Agatha, not being a marine expert, can not expertly council poor Freddie. Perhaps in some future issue an answer can be given to this intriguing problem.

Question: What's funny, honey? Answer:

Sticklers!

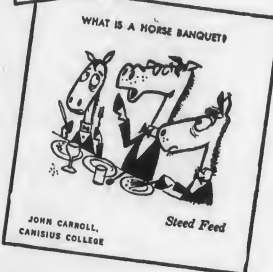

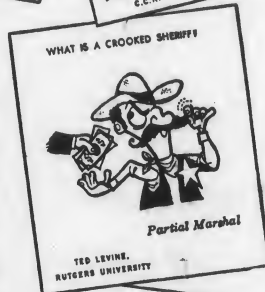

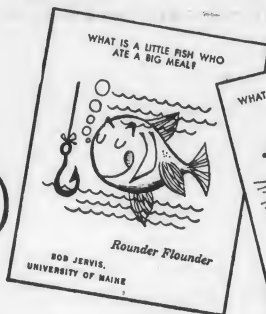

IF YOU'RE A SMOKER who's never tried a smoke ring, get in there and start puffing. While you're at it, remember: Lucky smoke rings come from fine tobacco. This makes no difference to the smoke ring, but it does to you. You see, fine tobacco means good taste, and Luckies' fine, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. So make your next cigarette a Lucky, and call your first smoke ring a Proud Cloud.

R. A. Elects

The Recreation Association Council has elected LINDA LODDEN-GAARD as R.A. Representative from the freshmen class. This vivacious frosh was born in Hackensack, New Jersey and has lived in Syracuse, New York; Cocoa, Florida; Sao Paulo, Brazil, and now resides in New York City.

Linda is blond, five feet seven inches tall, and eighteen years old. Before coming to Mary Washington College, she attended the Emma Willard School in Troy, New York. She is now majoring in math and is a new member of the Terrapin Club. Swimming and playing tennis are favorite hobbies of hers, and she hopes someday to return to Brazil, another favorite of hers.

As Freshman Representative to R.A., Linda will carry out the duties of keeping the class of 1960 informed of all R.A. and Devil-Goat functions, and she will represent the interests of the class on council.

Basketball To Be Resumed

The basketball season will resume after the Thanksgiving holidays. There will be a new schedule posted on the dorm bulletin boards. The remaining teams will be four from the freshman class and one team from each of the other classes:

Betty Lewis plus Cornell

Virginia

Willard I-1st floor

Willard II-2nd and 3rd floors

All the girls in smaller dorms are asked to play with their class teams.

COME ON, GIRLS, SUPPORT YOUR TEAM!!!

Swimming Convention Held

Terrapin is practicing for its annual swimming exhibition to be held in December.

Terrapin members Marcia Stambach, Yvonne Lewis, and Babs Romero attended an eastern convention of synchronized swimming on November 16th and 17th at Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts.

Hockey News

The second Devil-Goat Hockey game was won by the GOATS with a score of 2-0!

THE HOCKEY TOURNAMENT—November 2nd and 3rd. The Mary Washington Hockey Team left school Friday morning, November 2, at 11:30, taking their eleven players in two cars for their weekend filled with hockey thrills at Longwood College. The day began with rain which stayed with the girls throughout the entire weekend. The first game was played right after their arrival at the college against the Petersburg Club, and throughout the slipping and sliding on the mud-covered field, the Petersburg Team came out at the final whistle with a 6-1 margin over the M.W.C. gals.

Following the game, they attended an informal tea and met many new members of different schools and club teams.

The next day, bright and early, M.W.C. trotted over to the field and got ready to play the Norfolk division of V.P.I. Again with the dodging of puddles M.W.C. stood Norfolk 0-0 at halftime. The second half began with M.W.C. dominating the field of play, but they could not push that ball in, and Norfolk, with quick maneuvering slid a ball in past M.W.C.'s goalie with the game ending at that moment 1-0.

After the game, they attended a luncheon in which the Tidewater 1st and 2nd teams were announced. An exhibition game was played between the 1st and 2nd team which proved to be very exciting! Following the game, everyone said their goodbyes and began their trip home filled with many memories of a wonderful and "wet" weekend.

The girls from M.W.C. who went to the tournament were:

Although we competed with a much more publicized show in Toronto, the Hoof Prints - sponsored Fredericksburg Horse Show went off quite well, with Mary Washington girls and Oak Hill horses coming through with more than the usual number of ribbons. Two weeks of rain turned the rings into swamps, so when the sun finally appeared everyone schooled overtime.

The Jumper Championship of the show was taken by Hawk Eye, owned by Ralph Cauffman and ridden by Wally Holly; Reserve Jumper Champion was Freckles, from the New Hope Farms. Hawk Eye was first in Open Jumpers, third in Warm Up, and fourth in both the Knock Down and Out and the Modified Olympics, while Freckles took first place in both the Warm Up and the Knock Down and Out.

Libby Lindstrom rode Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews' Shamrock, the show's Hunter Champion. To first place in three classes: Working Hunters, Junior Working Hunters, and Hunter Hacks; she also got a fourth in Junior Hunter Hacks. Reserve Champion in the Hunter division was Allen Shreeve's Bus Stop, who took second place ribbons in both the Open and the Junior Working Hunter classes, with Ken Shreeve aboard.

Two MWC riders, both freshmen, came away with blue ribbons in their respective classes. Jackie Bragg, riding Oliver Durant's Royal Princess, took a first in Green Hunters, a second in Equitation, and a fourth in Junior Working Hunters, while Kitten James on Hesitation was first in the Equitation class and third in Junior Working Hunters.

Several other college students were also among the winners on Sunday. Donna Pethick, who rode Barbara Barndt's mare, Miss Timber, took a second in Junior Hunter Hack, a third in Conformation Hunters, and a fourth in Hunter Hack. Nancy Schultz came in for a second in Conformation Hunters and a third in Hunter Hack on Clifton's Lad, and Pat Morgan, also on Clifton's Lad, took a fourth in Equitation. Finally, Cynthia Stone rode her horse, Irish Fair, to a second in Green Hunters and a fourth in Conformation Hunters. Oak Hill Stables played host to

La Maison Francais

In a picturesque corner of the MWC campus between Randolph and Framar stands a red brick, two-story house called Brent - otherwise known as the French House. During the fall of 1951 Brent was opened with a reception for the Ambassador of France at the time. The first Directrice of the house was Miss Marion Greene.

The building itself is comfortably furnished and displays quite a number of large French flags and posters along the corridor walls. A well-equipped library containing standard works in French has been made available to Brent's residents through the efforts of Dr. Carrol Quenzel. Leading Paris newspapers and periodicals such as the Daily Figaro and the Paris Match are received regularly.

Miss Yvette Fallandy is the present Directrice of the French House and has a capable House President, Adrienne Selch, to assist her. Miss Selch has been a resident of Brent for three years and has fluent command of the French language. Other active residents include Ellen Turner, Gayli Leavitt, Marilyn Feist, Pat Franson, Laura Baker, Barbara Moore, Diana Murdock, Sigrid Stanley, and Margie May. These girls are all excellent students who, wishing to acquire fluency in French, speak the language Monday through Friday when together in Brent. A large sign reading "Maintenant Vous Entrez dans le Second Langage" reminds them that they are to speak their adopted language at all times within the dorm.

The activities of the French House thus far have included a welcoming party for two new members of the French faculty, Miss Miriam Bowes, and Mrs. Walter Bishop, and also a special meeting in honor of Dean Margaret Hargrove and Dean Mary Ellen Stephenson.

On November 29 Brent will play host to a very distinguished visitor on campus, M. Jean Lambert, the son-in-law of Andre Gide and a recent survivor of the Andrea Doria disaster. M. Lambert will speak on "Gide, as I Knew Him" at 4:00 P.M. November 29 in Lounge A of Ann Carter Lee. Other distinguished visitors to be entertained by Brent in the near future will be the Enfants de la Croix du Bois. This group of young singers from France will perform for the student body at a Lyceum program in the future.

News has been received from several former residents of the French House who are now engaged in a variety of interesting jobs. One girl has gone to Saigon on a diplomatic service post, another is working as a translator in New York City, three girls have entered the teaching profession, and still another works for a commercial Import-Export House in New York.

These girls while at MWC enjoyed the spirit of friendliness and conviviality which reigns among the residents of Brent. Not only did they acquire a fluency in French but also took an avid interest in all the varied activities of their "home away from home."

SULTRY SCENE WITH THE HOUSE-PARTY QUEEN

She sat next to me on the train that day
And a wave of perfume wafted my way
—A dangerous scent that is called "I'm Bad!"
Deliberately made to drive men mad.
I tried to think thoughts that were pure and good
I did the very best that I could!
But alas, that perfume was stronger than I
I gave her a kiss . . . and got a black eye!

If kissing strangers has its dangers, in smoking at least enjoy the real thing, the big, big pleasure, of a Chesterfield King! Big size, big flavor, smoother all the way because it's packed more smoothly by Accu-Ray.
